

VALLEY MEDICAL GROUP LABORATORY
FASTING LAB PROCEDURE

Patients should not have anything to eat or drink by mouth, with the exception of water, twelve hours prior to the blood draw.

Patient may have as much water as needed.

Patient may continue to take all prescribed medications unless otherwise directed by the provider.

Generally, the provider wants patients to fast before having a lipid or glucose test.